Greenland Reported Sinking Into the Ocean

COPENHAGEN—Members of a Danish scientific expedition reported that Greenland is sinking into the sea at the rate of about 60 inches per century.

The scientists, just returned from Greenland, said it had been ascertained the 834,000-square-mile island is slipping back into the sea at an increasing rate. One hundred years ago, the island sank at the rate of only 40 inches per century.

The scientists also predicted that Greenland's tropical climate of 10,000 years ago is gradually returning, but made no prediction as to the length of time it would take for the present Arctic climate to disappear altogether.

13 Airlines Connect U. S. to 60 Nations

200,000 Miles of Air Routes Have Been Surveyed.

WASHINGTON.—United States airlines have been authorized to fly approximately 200,000 miles of international air routes radiating from 21 United States cities to every area of the world, a survey showed.

Thirteen airlines hold franchises for these routes, extending into some 60 foreign countries and colonial areas.

Now it is up to the state department to make operation of all these routes possible by negotiating landing rights agreements. This already has been done with most European and Middle East countries. The toughest jobs lie ahead in Asia and Latin America.

From New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Washington, Chicago and Detroit, three airlines—Pan American, American Overseas and Trans World—now fly the Atlantic.

American Airlines, Braniff Airways, Chicago and Southern Air Lines, Eastern Air Lines, National Airlines and Western Air Lines have been awarded Latin American routes in competition with Pan American, which has obtained additional grants there.

In the same proceeding CAB granted Colonial Airlines a route from Washington and New York to Bermuda.

United States cities affected by the new Latin routes are El Paso, San Antonio, Fort Worth-Dallas, Houston, Los Angeles, Brownsville, Corpus Christi, New Orleans, Miami, Tampa, Washington, New York, Los Angeles and San Diego.

Trans-Pacific routes extend from Seattle, Minneapolis-St. Paul, Chicago, New York, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Northwest Airlines will fly from the first four across Canada and the Philippines to Japan, China and the Philippines.

At Shanghai it will connect with TWA's east-bound route to form a round-the-world service.

Pan American will fly from the California cities, as before the war, via Honolulu to the Orient, connecting with its eastbound India, to form another round-the-world service. It also will fly to Australia.

Appomattox starts the year with prospects of building boom.

Tobacco markets will reopen on Monday, January 6.

Tours for Overseas Soldiers Increased

Opportunities for travel in countries of Europe and in the occupied Pacific areas for United States military personnel on furlough from occupation duties have been increased and four itineraries altered to suit seasonal changes.

Army special services overseas sponsors tours to most of the countries of Europe organized through facilities of American Express company and with cooperation of various allied nations good will committees. Tours may be taken by dependents and affiliated agency employees as well as by military personnel.

Furloughs for military personnel are arranged to coincide with tour schedules. Prices are well within the resources of the average G. I.

In the European theater the program includes conducted tours to Paris and the Riviera, Switzerland and Rome, United Kingdom, Ireland, Netherlands, Denmark and Czechoslovakia, Sweden and Greece. It is also possible that Palestine and Egypt may be included in the program.

In the Pacific and Far East, tours more local in character center about large cities and resorts of occupied areas.

Leaf Prices
Still Excellent

Virginia flue-cured tobacco markets showed a slight gain in prices this week. Dark-fired markets reopened this week after the Christmas holidays, with prices averaging better than $30 per hundred reported. In Lynchburg Tuesday leaf poundage sold was 200,000, with an average of $32.84; while at Farmville Tuesday sales were 157,274 pounds at an average of $32.81.

LIONS CLUB MEETING
The Appomattox Lions Club will meet tonight at 6:45 at the Appomattox Restaurant.

After such a grand and glorious Christmas vacation, here we are back at school just full of news (and we might add) turkey and all the other Christmas deliriums.

It seems to us we've noticed a very lovely brand on Ruth Gull's arm. Roger might know who gave it to her. And where did June look get that lovely compact? Elaine's necklace from Donald is a masterpiece and who but Tommy gave Garry that gorgeous watch?

Let Anne Taylor have been wearing new clothes recently. Does Billy know what kind?

We hear that Billy Conner was seen over Christmas with a certain M. C. end. Now, could it be the same Garfield Remond's who graduated last year? By the way, how's our friend, Dick, doing?

Mrs. Holley tells us that her trip home, the first for several years at Christmas, was all she had dreamed it would be.

We are very happy to welcome to our school Joe Bullock, who comes from upper New York State. We hope you will be very happy here, Joe.

To our pleasant surprise we have discovered that Mrs. Martin not only very musical but a swell cook besides. Those cookies for the Seniors' Christmas party were the best yet.

Wandering through our beloved A. H. S. a few days before Christmas we saw Selwyn O'Brien, Louise Covington, Elsie Thornhill, and a few others. We're always glad to have our old students pass us a visit.

We must say good-bye for now but we will be back next week with more news. Expect anything, since our New Year's resolution is to make this column better and better.
